

The Department of Asian Studies and the Centre for Asia-Pacific Studies at Metropolitan University Prague cordially invite you to an international academic seminar entitled

POLITICAL INSTABILITY IN SOUTHEAST ASIA

The objective of this workshop is to address current political issues in the region of Southeast Asia with a particular focus on problems of national security, inter-state relations, human security, domestic political developments, and the challenges of political and economic transitions due to changes in the international environment in the post-Cold War era.

9.30 MORNING COFFEE

10.00 OPENING

10.10 - 10.50 Keynote Speech

Prof. Wolfram Schaffar, Department of Development Studies, University of Vienna

Contested Constitutionalism and Rule-of-law in Myanmar in a Comparative Perspective

11.00 - 12.30 General Panel

Richard Turcsányi, Institute of Asian Studies, CENAA, Bratislava

Thai-Cambodian Conflict: The Sign of ASEAN's failure?

Lada Homutová, Department of Political Science, Faculty of Arts, Charles University in Prague

Vietnam domestic politics: Stable instability

Vojtěch Bublík, Asian Studies and International Relations, Metropolitan University Prague

The Past and Present of the Separatist Conflict in the Southern Philippines

Chair: Tomáš Petrů, Head of the Department of Asian Studies and CAPS

VENUE: Metropolitan University Prague, Prokopova 16, Prague 3 – Žižkov, attic

TIME: 9.30–12.30, April 19th, 2013

REGISTRATION AT <http://registrace.mup.cz>